What’s the Plan?

Expert Panel: Introduction to the Project Team

February 11, 2016
6:00–8:00pm
Main Library Lecture Hall
449 Broadway

6:00 Welcome and overview
Stuart Dash, Cambridge Community Development Department

6:20 Introduction and discussion with the project team
Project overview: Tim Love, Utile
Public engagement strategy: Dan D’Oca, Interboro Partners
Housing market analysis: Kevin Hively, Ninigret Partners
Mobility: Lisa Jacobson, Nelson\Nygaard
Sustainability and resiliency: Ariella Maron, BuroHappold Consulting Engineers

7:45 Wrap up and next steps

8:00 Adjourn

Envision Cambridge is a public process to develop a plan for a livable, sustainable, and equitable city. With input from those who live, work, study, and play in our city, Envision Cambridge will create a shared vision for the future of Cambridge. The plan will result in recommendations on a broad range of topics such as housing, mobility, economic opportunity, urban form, and climate and the environment.

To learn more about the project, visit www.cambridgema.gov/citywideplan
Speaker Biographies

Tim Love, Utile
The founding principal of Utile, Tim is highly regarded for his strategic and collaborative approach to complicated urban projects – including helping to bring together diverse public agencies and stakeholders around a single shared vision. Tim is also a tenured Associate Professor at the Northeastern University School of Architecture where he teaches housing, urban design and architectural theory.

Dan D’Oca, Interboro Partners
A graduate of Harvard’s Graduate School of Design and founding partner and principal of Interboro, Dan is a Professor in Practice in Urban Planning and Design at Harvard University’s Graduate School of Design, where he leads planning studios and classes about community engagement.

Ariella Maron, Buro Happold
Before joining Buro Happold, Ariella was the Deputy Commissioner for energy management at the NYC Department of Citywide Administrative Services. She was also deputy director of the NYC Mayor’s Office of Long-Term Planning and Sustainability, the office responsible for the implementation of PlaNYC, the city’s long-term sustainability plan, and a member of the core team that developed PlaNYC, focusing on air and water quality, energy, and climate change.

Lisa Jacobson, Nelson\Nygaard
Lisa’s work focuses on multimodal transportation planning for public, private, and non-profit sectors. Before joining Nelson\Nygaard, Lisa was a fellow with the National Complete Streets Coalition, where she worked on federal, state, and local policies to encourage street design to incorporate all users, regardless of age and ability. Lisa’s work at the Coalition was recently published in an AARP report, “Planning Complete Streets for an Aging America.”

Kevin Hively, Ninigret Partners
Kevin brings 18 years of experience working with corporations, governments and nonprofits on key strategic and economic issues. His recent work includes a market analysis and design proposal for new housing construction in Hartford, a mixed-use neighborhood redevelopment plan in Springfield, and the ongoing Marine Industrial Park master plan update for the Boston Redevelopment Authority. Before working as an economic development consultant, Mr. Hively was Director of Policy for the State of Rhode Island.

---

To learn more about the project, visit
www.cambridgema.gov/citywideplan